WHO'S WHO

Alex Zarleno
Alex Zarleno is glad to be back for the 10th season as the Nutcracker, and his seconds season returning to the role following a ruptured Achilles tendon. Aside from work as a contemporary ballet dancer with CONNetic, Alex maintains a career in commercial dance. Most recently Alex completed a run of Kinky Boots in New York as one of Lola’s Angels. Alex also was a featured dancer and part of the creative team behind “Nails, Hair, Hips, Heels” and “I Like Boys” with Broadway and Youtube star, Todrick Hall. Regional credits include Singin’ in the Rain, The Music Man, Mary Poppins, The Rocky Horror Show, and Hello, Dolly! Alex has also performed two contracts as a dancer and aerialist with Norwegian Cruise Lines. He holds a degree in Neuroscience from Salve Regina University where he graduated Magna cum laude. Alex would like to thank his mom, Da, and Triona for their love and support. @absandcakes89 www.alexzarleno.com

Kayleigh Crocetto
Kayleigh Crocetto trained extensively throughout New England and is an alumni of the Greater Hartford Academy of the Arts. She attended workshops with Abby Lee Dance Company, where she had the opportunity to work with renowned choreographers such as Molly Long, James Washington, and Abby Lee Miller. In addition to many years with CONNetic Dance, Kayleigh has also worked with Ballet Theatre Company and Connecticut Ballet and with comedian Hannibal Buress as a ballerina in his "Gibberish" skit. She has taught and choreographed for competitive dancers and musicals and is very excited to have recently opened her own dance studio, Dance Central, located in Middlefield, CT. In addition to her dance career, Kayleigh is currently an Honors College student at CCSU pursuing a degree in Marketing. She would like to thank Carolyn and congratulate CONNetic Dance for 10 years which she is happy to have been part of! @kayleighcrocetto

Sam Flook
Samantha Flook is thrilled to once again join the cast of The Nutcracker Suite and Spicy. She hold a Bachelors Degree in Dance from Hofstra University and a minor in Fine Arts. THE ART OF SUITE & SPICY

Backdrop/Production Art Designer

Nina Goodale is a visual artist/interior designer whose style mixes minimalist aesthetics to communicate complex relationships. She has worked extensively with Carolyn Paine and CONNetic Dance, providing set designs for numerous past productions including an inventive creation in collaboration with the Wadsworth Atheneum as part of their 2015 Coney Island exhibit. Originally gaining recognition out of her studio on Hartford, she now works as the Public Arts and Placemaking Coordinator for the City of Virginia Beach, where she continues building on her experience at the intersection of art, culture, and community engagement. Her roles have ranged from working with schools and museums, advising businesses of all scales, and establishing programs that connected neighborhoods around key initiatives ranging from violence reduction to economic development. Her two favorite past times are being inspired everyday by her three daughters, and taking her goodest boy, Logan, for long hikes.

A film that follows the remarkable evolution of the creative process surrounding the production from its genesis to its 10th year while also examining the cultural relevance of rebooting the holiday classic for a contemporary audience.
